Drainage Relief at Dobrey Slough to Cost $100,000

The Illinois State Division of Waterways plans a program of stormwater drainage relief in the Dobrey Slough area of Nameoki township which will cost about $100,000, and which will be designed to fit in as part of the overall Hillside Drainage program when it is developed, it was announced Tuesday by John Guiliou, chief engineer of the division.

At the same time Guiliou, meeting with a delegation of political, civic and conservation leaders, urged that local sponsorship of the Hillside Drainage program be considered through creation of a Conservancy District made up of the political bodies of the Madison-St. Clair county area.

State legislation under which Hillside Drainage plans now are being prepared provides for state sponsorship of the project in the absence of adequate local sponsorship that would qualify for federal grants. Guiliou also proposed that the name of the project be changed from Hillside Drainage to the American Bottoms Act, since the work will encompass a vast area designed to handle drainage from the bottom area as well as the hill area.

Plans Nearly Ready
Guiliou told the meeting in the Holiday Inn, East St. Louis, that plans are near completion for relieving flooding conditions in the Dobrey Slough area in periods of heavy rainfall, but told the group these plans do not encompass elimination of the slough itself.

Instead, he said, the success of any flood control in the area will depend upon strict land

Largest Plane Back; Seen by Gen. Goodpaster

The Air Force's mammoth globe-trotting C-5 Galaxy returned Tuesday to its home station at Charleston Air Force Base, S. C., after its first mission to Europe.

The C-5, newest aircraft in the Military Airlift Command, and the world's largest, arrived home on schedule after stops at Rhein-Main Air Base, Germany, Lakenheath RAF Station, England, and Torresion Air Base, Spain.

Earlier, the C-5 made a 10-day whirlwind cargo-carrying circuit of six Pacific bases, including a flight into Vietnam.

The giant aircraft landed at Charleston after a 9 1/2-hour flight from Madrid. This was the first of MAC's regularly scheduled C-5 flights between the U. S. and Europe.

60-Ton Cargo
Again proving its ability to airlift loads never before transportable by air, the C-5 carried nearly 120,000 pounds of cargo and equipment from the U. S. to Rhein-Main.

Lieutenant General George B. Simler, vice-commander-in-chief, U. S. Air Forces in Europe, and other members of his staff welcomed Colonel

Air Board Inspects Coke Oven Pollution Problems

Members of the Granite City Air Pollution Control Board and eight of the city council's 15 aldermen toured the blast furnace department of Granite City Steel Co. Monday night and "gained a whole new insight into the problems involved in controlling pollution emissions," according to Henry Bienecki, chairman of the clean air board.

The inspection trip replaced the regular meeting of the pollution control board and was arranged to permit an on-site viewing of coke oven operations to acquaint the board and city officials with problems involved in controlling gas and smoke emissions at the coke plant.

The group met at the main gate of the steel plant on Thursday street and went from there to the blast furnace department.

First-Hand Look
"We were given a first-hand look at the whole operation," Bienecki reported. "and all of us were impressed with the size of the facility and the difficulty in making any sizeable reduction in pollution emissions."

Nameoki Dispute Holds Up Payments

Town Board Refuses to Approve Bills Until New Procedure Used

The Nameoki town board held up payment of all bills Monday night—except the employees' payroll—as the result of a mounting controversy with Supervisor Harry Briggs over the procedure used by the supervisor in paying township bills.

Board members refused to approve payment of $1218 in road fund claims and $416 in town fund bills and said they would continue to hold up bill payments until Briggs complies with board action of two weeks ago requiring the supervisor to submit a voucher and a check for each bill given the board for approval.

Briggs was absent at Monday night's session and was reported on vacation. Charles Hanks, Nameoki township high-way commissioner who has been involved in a three-month feud with town board members over approval of road fund claims, also did not attend the meeting.

Lou Whitsell explained that as town clerk it is his responsibility to keep all township records but that it has been impossible for him to do so because, he said, he does not receive vouchers for some of the bills that are approved, and for which checks are issued.

Briggs, as supervisor, issues the checks and pays the bills approved by the town board.

Can't Complete Accounts
Whitsell told other town board members that without vouchers that correspond to serial number and amount with checks issued in payment of approved bills, he cannot reconcile accounts in the town books.

Town board members in their meeting two weeks ago adopted a resolution requiring the supervisor to submit a voucher and prepared check to the board along with each bill needing board approval.

Monday night, Whitsell told the board that Briggs, who also was absent at the meeting two

Plan for School Building Activated

GC Board Authorizes Alternate Heating Plan in New Structure

The Granite City board of education decided to proceed with plans for construction of a new elementary school during a meeting Monday night, despite a current problem on the method of heating to be used.

Plans and specifications for the new school on the Schaefer site on Old Alton road were completed more than six weeks ago but a call for construction bids was blocked when Illinois Power Co. announced that it may be unable to provide natural gas for heating new schools.

Supt. B. J. Davis recommended that architects and engineers be instructed to include an alternate source of heat, L. P. (propane) gas, in the specifications, and to issue the bid call. The board agreed.

IPC previously assured the school administration that natural gas would be available for the school before the shortage was announced.

Priority System
The utility is seeking authorization from the Illinois Commerce Commission to establish a priority system for available natural gas, with schools placed low on the list. A hearing is scheduled Aug. 27 in Springfield, Davis said.

Davis conjectured that the Monday night session in school being placed in a higher classification in the IPC priority system. The decision to plan for the use of natural gas, rather than a more expensive electrical heating, was based on an opinion that the shortage of natural gas would last only a year or two.

The board authorized a call for bids to correct a drainage problem on Grigsby junior high school property after plans for

S/4 Wm. Barritt Is Wounded in Vietnam Action

S/4 William E. Barritt, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Barritt, 209 Weber street, Venice, was wounded in action in Vietnam Aug. 8 while serving as a gunner on a helicopter during a military mission, according to word received by his parents yesterday.

The aircraft in which Barritt was serving was struck when fired upon by a hostile ground force, crashed and burned, Mr. and Mrs. Barritt were informed in a telegram received from Kenneth Wishborn, 1023 Grand avenue, partner of the Army at Washington, D. C.

Specialist Barritt suffered third degree burns over six percent of his body and second degree burns to 38 percent of his body including the head, neck, both hands, both hips, both arms, both thighs and the left foot. Maj. Gen. Wishborn said Barritt suffered no eye or brain damage.

Mrs. Barritt said she also received a message from the American Red Cross that a Red Cross worker had visited her in the hospital, and that he asked the worker to inform her parents that it was difficult for him to take because his law was wired. Barritt also suffered two fractures of the right arm with an apparent nerve injury, according to the Red Cross message.

On Serious List
The telegram from Maj. Gen. Wishborn said Barritt was placed on the serious list Aug. 9. He is hospitalized in Vietnam and mail may be sent to him at the Hospital Mail Section, APO San Francisco, 96347.

Barritt was assigned to Vietnam June 18, 1969. He remained there upon completion of his year of service and extended his tour in Vietnam for six months. He then re-enlisted for a six-year period.

His wife, Mrs. Gail Barritt, lives at Meridian, Miss., with their two-year-old son Christopher. He is a graduate of Venice high school, and for two years attended the Bible Institute at Cleveland, Tenn. He formerly served as pastor of the Church of God in Prophecy at Manchester, Tenn.

Supervisors Lease of 400 Voting Machines

$50,000 Rental to Apply to Purchase If Test Successful

Voting machines will be used in Madison county for the first time in the Nov. 3 general election.

The county board of supervisors voted to lease 400 of the machines for the next two elections, with an option to purchase, during its regular meeting yesterday at the county courthouse.

The machines, to be used in each of the precincts in the county, will cost about $50,000 to lease from the Shoup Voting Machine Corp. of Bala-Cynwyd, Pa., with the amount to apply to the purchase price.

Under terms of the lease, the machines also would be used for a half by a special committee to be held early next year.

Reviewed Last Study
The decision was reached after Arthur Braundmiller, New Douglas township supervisor, reviewed a study of a year and a half by a special committee which considered and inspected various makes of voting machines before selecting the Shoup model.

John Kraynak, county auditor, advised the board that the cost, covered by investing $1.3 million which is available now in seven percent U.S. treasury notes for a 120 days. He recommended that the board instruct John Maeras, county treasurer, to invest the money immediately.

He said the county will have sufficient income and cash on hand to cover the cost of fee of offices and interest from other invested funds.

Braundmiller said the machines will handle a large ballot, the type of which was displayed, and that candidates would be listed vertically rather than horizontally as on some machines. He said the Shoup machine will be easy to use.

The equipment also could be kept on a lease basis for 10 years at total cost of $2130 per machine. It was a pointed out, with interest at six percent.

Can Purchase Later
Harry Briggs, Nameoki township supervisor who was a on the committee, said that the lease would give people a good opportunity to use the machines, and perhaps we can purchase them later.

He said that elsewhere counties have on the cost of paper ballots and the machines pay for themselves after 10 elections. The machines weigh 720 pounds each, and Briggs said that in one county surveyed, 10 men with trucks were able to place 316 machines in four days traveling distances of up to 45 miles to the polls.

Other members of the committee, who traveled for inspection from New York to the West, were Carl Roach of Granite City, Arthur "Cooper" Moore of Madison, Hays Mallory of Edwardsville, Harold Landolt, board chairman, and Miss Eulalia Hoiz, county clerk.

In the past the hand counting of paper ballots by election judges took long periods of time, and in some instances results of elections remained undetermined until the following day.

The machine is designed to provide immediate, accurate results.

The manufacturers claim: Mechanical safeguards prevent your spoiling your ballot; you cannot cast a blank ballot; you cannot overvote any office; you can split your ticket for any office; you can immediately correct an error if you turn a wrong pointer; "X" marks will appear beside the names of candidates you select and the voting lever will point at the name of each machine voted; your vote is secret and chain voting is positively prevented.

Machine Is Sealed
Counters disclose each candidate's total under his name and the total for each office raised after the polls close; when polls are closed, the machine automatically seals the key in the lock; the machine is locked and sealed against further operation; the machine

Plan for School

The work was illustrated by Tully A. Heubner, director of buildings and grounds, during an executive session.

Replace Surface

Plans call for replacing an asphalt surface on a roadway and parking area with concrete and changing the contour to permit an easier flow of storm water to culverts leading to a drainage ditch along Cargill road. The culverts are to be extended by 10 feet at each end.

A proposal was discussed to use school district equipment to maintain a portion of the drainage ditch up to Pontoon road, to clear it of clogging debris, pending permission from the Yarnok township road commissioner.

To expedite the work, Heubner was authorized to contact contractors immediately, requesting that bids be submitted for opening on Monday afternoon.

State Aid Formula
Davis announced that the schools should benefit from a new state aid formula under a density factor which provides districts with enrollments of 10,000 to 20,000 with an additional 3 1/2% in benefits. The money, amount of which is undetermined, will finance additional personnel, a supplemental staff, instructional supplies and an expanded trancy program. None of the money will be available for salary increases, he said.

The basic rate of state aid will remain at $320 per student, but the new formula provides an eight per cent increase according to average daily attendance, with additional amounts for districts with high density and growing enrollments, Davis said.

Following a 45 minute executive session, board member Robert Crider questioned the value of the sessions. He complained that information regarding promotion of personnel which was discussed at a recent closed session was in several news articles at the instigation of other board members.

Other members pointed out that closed sessions are a requirement in the discussion of personnel, building programs and other reasons, but Crider insisted that some should be eliminated.

Harry Spillers, C-5 task force commander, to Europe.

General Simler, after a tour of the aircraft, predicted "vast advantages to the mission and responses of U. S. Air Forces in Europe" with the advent of the C-5 into its worldwide airlift role.

General Andrew J. Goodpaster, commander-in-chief, Supreme Headquarters, Allied Powers Europe (SHAPE), and General James H. Polk, commander-in-chief, U. S. Army in Europe (USAEUR), also toured the aircraft at Rhein-Main.

Goodpaster, commented that the potential for the C-5 is unlimited.

"It's really a tremendous piece of equipment," the supreme commander, said. "My main impression is what a splendid solution this is to a well-defined military problem of cargo movement."

General Polk described the C-5 as overwhelming. "It's so big," he said, "you have to go through a period of adjustment to get used to it. We see great possibilities in the movement of cargo with the C-5."

touched down on the runway at Lakenheath RAF Station, England, in the picturesque farm lands of East Anglia. At this stop, the C-5 Joint Task Force and crew were greeted by Brigadier General Frank L. Gailer, vice-commander of the Third Air Force.

Visitors to view the C-5 at Lakenheath included Air Commodore C. M. Fell, Royal Air Force director of operations, and Air Commodore I. S. Stockwell, director of Royal Air Force operational requirements.

Attracts Thousands

Again, as at its first stop, thousands of base personnel had an opportunity to see the aircraft.

Leaving England, the Galaxy landed at Torrejon Air Base, Spain, located near Madrid, where U. S. Ambassador Robert C. Hill was one of those to view the 248-foot-long jet transport. The Galaxy task force and crew were greeted by Major General Edward A. McGough, commander of the 18th Air Force, and Major General Francisco Serra, deputy chief of Guardia Civil, representing the Spanish government.

Base officials estimated that 10,000 persons viewed the C-5 through a period of adjustment to get used to it. We see great possibilities in the movement of cargo with the C-5."

Apollo 11, Moon Rocks At Springfield Friday

The second journey of Apollo 11 has begun.

The command module that carried astronauts Neil Armstrong, Ed Aldrin, and Mike Collins to man's first walk on the moon has begun a 50-state, one-year tour of the U.S. It is scheduled for display at the state capital in Illinois from tomorrow through Monday, Aug. 17.

Almost as much planning and coordination as went into Apollo 11's first trip has been required for the tour. In fact, it may have been easier to get the capsule to the moon than to the 50 states.

The tour is being sponsored by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, with transportation being provided as a public service by the Heavy Specialized Carriers Conference of the American Trucking Association.

The capsule, along with some moon rocks that were collected by the astronauts and the space suits they wore, is being transported on a specially built, 14-foot "lowboy" trailer. The width of the trailer exceeds the legal maximum highway width and a special permit had to be obtained in California and accepted in each state. For safety reasons, the capsule will move during daylight hours only and will not move on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays.

A total of 125 drivers from 78 trucking companies have been furnished to move the trailer and its two escort cars on their 13,500-mile journey. A chosen from the previous trip's team of three drivers headed by a "driver supervisor" will move the capsule between the cities.

Similar to the Apollo mission, the driver supervisor is chosen from the previous trip's team so that each supervisor will be experienced in the moving of the capsule.

The tour schedule was prepared so that the convoy will have the best weather conditions possible throughout the tour—north in the summer and south in the winter. The capsule will be in a different state capital each weekend.

There was difficulty in establishing a value for the historic capsule so, to play it safe, the personal appearance and attitude toward his work.

Heavy Specialized Carriers Conference is carrying a $10 million insurance policy on the "Commander" from Milwaukee.

The Springfield Capsule will be driver James N. Reuter from Milwaukee, Wis. Reuter was selected because of his driving record, seem to bother him, however, the personal appearance and attitude toward his work.

He will be in charge of the convoy en route to Illinois and will have to sign a receipt slip for the capsule-making him totally responsible until it's turned over to a IASA official at the next capital. This doesn't seem to bother him, however, the personal appearance and attitude toward his work.

Reuter says, "and I've signed for a lot of expensive cargo. I look at it as just another shipment. The only difference is that this shipment can't be replaced."

Livestock, Millions in Exhibits at State Fair

Livestock and other exhibits valued at millions of dollars will be on display, as only one of many features of the Illinois State Fair which opens at the Springfield today.

The Junior Department buildings could be a highlight of your visit. Saunter down the aisles of the livestock barn. Take your time, reading the names and addresses above the stalls, and be careful where you step. Animals are either penned or tied, so it's perfectly safe if you keep your distance.

Watch the blue-jointed 4-H and FFA youngsters groom and feed their animals. Take a swing by the wash rack and see the animals getting bathed with unheard of soap concoctions, which the young owners have tested in order to get their animals cleaner than those of the competition.

Animals Panpered
An interesting demonstration on hair curling can be viewed around the beef cattle stalls. It's usually a surprise to learn that the animals receive more panpering than women do in a beauty parlor. The animal's hair is short at this time of the year, but determined brushing and butch wax will help to hold a wave.

If you can time your arrival to coincide with livestock judging, you may be able to appreciate what produces the tension in the air. Stand to the side as exhibitors bring their animals out of the stalls and apply the finishing touches. In the midst of rapid, deliberate activity, you'll see a runner periodically disappear and then come back to yell, "They've lined up the top ten. We'd better go up!"

Follow the call up to the showing ring where the judging is taking place. You'll notice, almost without exception, that suddenly everyone is moving slower, it is quieter, and there is an eerie calm. They are ready to show.

Up on the stage of the Junior Home Economics auditorium, young 4-H girls will model a range of garments from fur-trimmed maxi-coats to pocka-dot bikinis. Each girl will wear apparel she has made during the year.

Home Economics Judging
County clothing winners with the latest fashions are scheduled each day (except Sunday) at 2:15 p.m., beginning tomorrow and ending Thursday, Aug. 20. A list showing which dates the counties appear will be posted in the Junior Home Economics building or may be found in the junior premium book.

Starting around 7 p.m. each night of the fair, county Share-the-Fun winners will perform on the stage of the Junior Home Economics auditorium. A full night's entertainment will be presented by talented 4-H'ers, free of charge and with plenty of seats available. Just walk in and pick a spot.

The vacuum hissing of the electric milking machines may not be what you expected at the Junior Milking Derby, but they have a sound all their own. You might try watching the facial expressions of the milk-ers . . . or better, try looking at the faces of the cows. The Milking Derby is held each evening Saturday through Thursday at 8:30 p.m. in the Junior Livestock barn.

Although 4-H and FFA'ers like rock bands (a number even sing and play with their local groups), they channel their interests in many directions and find little time to rock society's boat with protests. You can see our Illinois youth conducting positive action and also see another side of the state fair by including a trip to the Junior Department sometime between Aug. 13 and 23.

Rotarians View Work Done by International

Rev. Louis Oetting, pastor of Hope Lutheran Church, and Dr. Charles W. Taylor, pastor of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, presented a series of slides on work being done by Rotary International during the Tuesday noon luncheon meeting of the Granite City Rotary Club.

The program concerned projects being conducted through the cooperation of Rotary International, mainly in deprived countries. Several rotary clubs may co-sponsor such programs as building hospitals, libraries and schools, or sending consultants in various fields to assist local countrymen.

After viewing the films the Granite City club discussed participating in some type of project during the next year. Grad Krause, chairman of both sales for the Modern Living Show which will be held at Wilson Park Aug. 28-30, announced three new exhibitors have purchased booth space. They are Prestige Printing, Miltrax and the Quad-City Publishing Co.

Rains Came and Campers Stayed Extra Day

Flooded creek beds surrounding Camp Sunnen, the camp of the Cahokia Mound Boy Scout Council, stopped passage in and out of the Potosi, Mo., site from early Sunday morning until Monday morning, delaying the return of local campers to the Quad-Cities until mid-day Monday.

More than four inches of rain flooded the area beginning at midnight Saturday night and continuing through Sunday.

The regular 1970 summer camping season had ended. Explorer Post 10-4, sponsored by the Madison Lions and police, had gone to Sunnen for what started out to be a normal scout camping trip.

Everything progressed well until Saturday night. The teenagers were camping outdoors in tents and, as they related here Monday evening, "everything got soaked."

Camp Sunnen has several normally dry creek beds. They filled up rapidly and DeForche Renault Creek, which feeds into Lake Sunnen, flooded past its banks for a distance of over 100 feet.

Water from the surrounding hills caused the creeks to develop swift and hazardous currents, but all returned safely to the Quad-Cities.

It was the first tent camping experience for many of the explorers—and one they will not forget.

Tents, sleeping gear and clothes were drenched by the rain but the weather failed to dampen the youths' spirits.

Adults with Post 10-4 were Jack Michaels, camping committee chairman, and Mick Strange, institutional representative.

Explorers Danny Allen, Roger Capt. Rick Hooks of Venice; Lieutenants Bill Fox of Madison, Terry Toth of Granite City and Ted Narvaez of Madison. Squad leaders Jerry Dragich of Madison, Bob Nash of Venice and Brad Smith of Granite City. Explorers Danny Allen, Roger Barks, Jim Howell, Vince Saputo, Craig Slaughter and Ray Hillard, all of Granite City; Tom Hooks and Mark Grayhouse, both of Venice; and Chuck Harmon, David Michaels, Roberto Narvaez, Danny Sipes, Bill Weidner and Ron Jones, all of Madison.

Edward V. Craig, 72, Dies; Former Resident

Edward V. Craig, 72, of 434 East Wickliff, Collinsville, a retired Granite City Steel Co. employee, died at 6:05 a.m. Wednesday in his home.

A long-time resident of Madison, Mr. Craig moved to Collinsville in 1962.

He was a member of St. Peter Paul Catholic Church and the Golden Age Association of Granite City. He also worked as a part-time employee for the City of Collinsville as a night watchman.

Surviving are his wife, Genevieve (Pashan) Craig; two sons, Arthur and Martin Craig, both of Collinsville; three daughters, Mrs. James (Barbara) Hickman of Collinsville, Mrs. Sylvester (Betty) Boyer of Granite City, and Mrs. Donald (Barbara) Boyer of Roselle; two brothers, Dave and Sam Craig, both of Overland, Mo.; two sisters, Mrs. Anna Johnson and Mrs. Julie Parmley, both of DeSoto, Mo.; and 18 grandchildren.

Arrangements are given in today's obituary column.

MORE ABOUT Drainage

work be financed out of division funds.

Over the next few weeks, while plans for he work are being finalized, Gullou said, his department will request all taxing bodies in the area to guarantee enforcement of regulations against indiscriminate building in the area involved in the flood control work.

William "Mike" Ebersold of Venice, a member of the East Side Levee and Sanitary district, pointed out that the levee district requires the filing of plans for drainage in connection with new building, but that some developers do not comply with the requirement.

Plan Another Meeting

Gullou said another meeting will be arranged within the next month or six weeks to consider the program further.

In addition to Senator Ottwein, legislators attending the meeting included State Rep. John C. Carls of Granite City, State Rep. Leland Kennedy of Alton and State Rep. Kenneth Scott of East St. Louis.

Others present included Mayor Donald Partney of Granite City, Edward Juneau, Granite City engineer of Sheppard, Borgan & Schwaab; Ebersold, Morris Campbell and Chief Engineer A.J. Kramer of the levee district; representatives of Southern Illinois University—Southern campus, and representatives of the U. S. Soil Conservation district.

Terry Thwaitt Bond $5500 on Gun Charge

Terry Thwaitt, Chouteau township, who was indicted by a federal grand jury in Springfield last week on a weapons charge growing out of an incident occurring in a Madison tavern last May 24, was released on $5500 cash bond Tuesday when arraigned in Adams before U.S. Commissioner Ronald Mottaz.

Thwaitt was brought into the commissioner's office in regard of two U.S. marshals. Commissioner Mottaz said Thwaitt was indicted under a federal law which makes it a felony for an ex-convict to carry a gun.

Thwaitt was arrested in Madison the early morning of May 24 when he allegedly threatened several persons in a tavern. The tavern operator said Thwaitt pulled a gun when he announced the tavern was about to close and no more drinks would be served.

Israel Scenes Viewed By Kiwanis Club Here

Al Gross, secretary of the Granite City Kiwanis Club, showed slides of Israel at Monday night's club meeting at the Rosebowl and recalled bombings immediately before and after several of his stops this summer.

He and President Norman Hull and Mike Toudous, past president, were named delegates to the Illinois Kiwanis convention Aug. 21-23 in St. Louis. A delegate-at-large, Melvin Gillis, past president of the local club and district governor-elect.

George Grove, first vice-president, presided and the club reviewed plans for this Sunday's boat races, co-sponsored with the Bowline boat club.

More Groceries Needed To Make Dirty Bags

A need for additional bags to prepare dirty bags for servicemen in Vietnam was reported Tuesday as the American Red Cross chapter board met at the First Granite City National Bank. The deadline for Christmas shipments is Sept. 25, and information on the volunteer work is available by calling the Red Cross office.

The blood program and Hurricane Celia in Texas were discussed by the directors along with progress in developing local disaster shelter agreements. Chairman William F. Winter presided.

Plane Loses Wheel; Damaged in Landing

A cabin plane owned by Dale H. Beebe and the plane's owner, whose name was not learned, nosed over in a landing made at Lakeside airport about 8:15 p.m. yesterday after the plane lost its nose wheel.

Firemen from the Long Lake Fire department were summoned to stand by for the landing. Jack Harper, chief of the fire department, said the plane lost the front wheel on takeoff and remained in the air until the fire department arrived as a precautionary measure.

Upon landing the plane nosed over, damaging the propeller and landing gear. There were no injuries and no fire, Harper reported.

MORE ABOUT Supervisors

Sparks cannot be reset without that fact being recorded; tampered adding machines cannot be illegally operated or changed.

Under a new state statute, the board amended election appropriation by $30,000 as the county must appoint five additional tally judges after the polls close, plus two hold-over judges. The cost would total $481.28 for the county.

The board also adopted a resolution for a study and evaluation of the sheriff's department, to be conducted by the International Association of Chiefs of Police. The county is to apply for a 100% federal grant not to exceed $10,000 for the study.

Building Commission
A resolution to establish a county building commission was introduced for first reading by Roy Halbe, new buildings committee chairman, but action was deferred as several board members claimed that they had yet to receive details on the proposal.

Acceptance of the new agency, which would be empowered to plan and construct new county buildings without a referendum, remained in doubt as some supervisors stressed that their authority and the rights of the public would be usurped.

Dan Churuvich of Granite City township said he preferred approval of the voters in a referendum in financing new buildings, rather than "trying to circumvent the public."

Edward Voudard of Alton, a member of the committee, opposed the creation of the commission, and in a written statement claimed that a new building program which would cost about $1 million renovation of $7 million was unnecessary for current structures could resolve space needs for the county government.

Legal advisor Smith insisted that new buildings, including a county government administration building, a jail and renovation of the courthouse, are necessary and could be accomplished only through a commission.

He maintained that the public does not understand the full scope of the work of the county government, that they are not interested and that they would never vote for a building bond issue.

Defeat Fee Hike

The board defeated a resolution to increase building and zoning permit fees by a 23 to 14 vote on a second reading. There was no discussion. The new schedule would have hiked building permit fees for an average five-room home to about $50.

A review of the annual county audit for the fiscal year ending last Nov. 30 was presented by R. C. Scheffel & Co., certified public accountants.

Scheffel told the board that the "financial position of the county at that date was extremely good."

Balance Increases
He said fund balances increased by $1.8 million to $13.8 million during the year, while five years earlier the excess was $2.9 million.

Centralized purchasing and accounting systems are needed, he said, especially as the assessed valuation of the county has increased from $885 million in 1965 to $977 million and tax levies have increased from $2.6 to $3.4 million for county use.

He noted that nearly $5 million was drawing interest in torneys to protect juveniles in drug situation.

"We should spend this money we should demand some convictions and penalties," Sparks concluded.

Galaway replied that it would be up to the state's attorney and judges.

Marshall Smith, assistant state's attorney and board legal advisor, remarked that Madison county is "well off compared to other counties in St. Louis."

He added that "a judge does not know what he is faced with after he has faced with it."

The board also adopted a resolution for a study and evaluation of the sheriff's department, to be conducted by the International Association of Chiefs of Police. The county is to apply for a 100% federal grant not to exceed $10,000 for the study.

Police recovered lost taken in the burglary at a garage in Collinsville. It included a color television set, a black-and-white television set, four sets of heat and air conditioning, an amplifier and an electric razor.

The house was ransacked while the intruder drank beer. A TV stand was found in the alley, and a stereo set was moved from the living room to the back door. Wires of a lamp in the living room were cut, and the rear window of an attached garage.

Home Burglarized

Burglars entered the home of Arnold Cockrell, 2816 Birch avenue, while the family was out of town since July 2. It was reported by a neighbor at 9:30 p.m. Tuesday.

A 30-foot section of eight-inch-wide guttering was pulled from the Lahey Funeral Home, 321 Madison avenue, Madison, and dragged down an alley toward Fourth and State streets.

The theft apparently occurred Aug. 8 and was carried out by two men who had arrived in the vicinity in a red car.

Service Station Burglary
Two cartons of cigarettes and a 12-volt battery were stolen in a burglary at the Mann & Sons service station, 9011 Collinsville road, State Park place, after 10:30 p.m. Tuesday, it was reported to the Madison county sheriff's office at 6:15 a.m. Wednesday.

Entry was gained by breaking a 3x6-foot plate glass window of the office. The intruders pushed a large candy machine through the same window before leaving.

A check in the amount of $244.68, stolen from Associated Delivery Inc., St. Louis, on July 31, was cashed by a woman at the Kroger store, Madison, Aug. 1, it was reported Monday.

She was described as being about 40, 5 feet, 3 inches tall short term investments, and that some $5 million was on deposit in banks. The county received $48 million during the year, and paid out about the same amount. He said the sum does not include about $30 million handled by township tax collectors.

Scheffel concluded that "we feel the finance committee and county officers are doing a good job, but we think there is room for improvement. With growth you have to change your methods."

Man Arrested in House Burglary; 13 Crimes

One person was arrested in a house burglary while area police authorities investigated 12 other cases of burglary and theft this week. Two other houses were entered, and seven incidents involved vehicles.

A 30-foot section of eight-inch-wide guttering was pulled from the Lahey Funeral Home, 321 Madison avenue, Madison, and dragged down an alley toward Fourth and State streets.

The theft apparently occurred Aug. 8 and was carried out by two men who had arrived in the vicinity in a red car.

Entry was gained by breaking a 3x6-foot plate glass window of the office. The intruders pushed a large candy machine through the same window before leaving.

A check in the amount of $244.68, stolen from Associated Delivery Inc., St. Louis, on July 31, was cashed by a woman at the Kroger store, Madison, Aug. 1, it was reported Monday.

She was described as being about 40, 5 feet, 3 inches tall

short term investments, and that some $5 million was on deposit in banks. The county received $48 million during the year, and paid out about the same amount. He said the sum does not include about $30 million handled by township tax collectors.

9th Annual Outboard Boat Races on Sunday

The ninth annual Kiwanis Bawline outboard motor boat races will be held on the Mississippi River near the Hartford Canal Sunday starting at 1 p.m. Boats will begin warming up and practicing at about 9 a.m.

Admission to the benefit for Kiwanis charities is $1 per auto, regardless of the number of passengers.

Tickets may be obtained in advance from Seibold Boat & Motor Co., 2402 Madison avenue, or from members of the CC Kiwanis or Bawline Boat club.

The annual late summer races are sanctioned by the National Outboard Driver's Association. Refreshment stands are to be provided.

The spectator site may be reached by taking Illinois Highway Three to the Hartford Canal bridges and turning toward the river along the north road bordering the canal. Direction signs are to be posted at the road and Highway Three junction.

Races will be held for A, B, C and D classes in both Runabout and Hydro boat divisions, and three Stock motor classes. "A" class races are for motors of 15 cubic inch displacement or less.

Runabout and Hydro division motors burn an alcoholic racing fuel. Stock division motors use gasoline.

Granite City Paul Bogosil will be returning to defend his championship in two classes. Another Granite Cityan, Billy Seibold Jr., winner of two classes here last year, hopes to race here. He is attempting to crowd his schedule so that he can compete both Sunday and in other races in Florida.

Ambulance Outhit By Bob's Bait Nine

Bob's Bait Shop beat Mercer Ambulance 22-12, Clark's Hard-facings defeated Coachlitters 7-3 and Jacobsmeier edged Miles Lab 5-4 in South Classic slow-pitch softball at Worthen Park Tuesday.

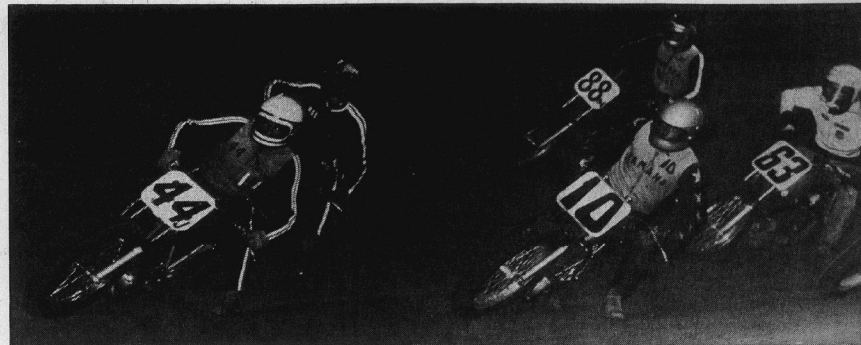

Bob's produced 25 hits, led by Gene Hudson's four-for-four batting. Don Leako's four safeties, including a home run and two doubles, and Don Holland's homer. Gerald Broadwater and Ed Canada homered for Ambulance.

Ed Bain's four-for-four paced Hardfacing to a 16-5 hit advantage. Bill Birtley crossed the plate with the winning run for Jacobsmeier, driven home by Charles Kasson's single.

Revelle's 5-for-5 Paces 1st Assembly

First Assembly of God pounded 32 hits to defeat Nameoki Methodist 24-7 in Church League softball at Worthen Park Wednesday.

Leonard Revelle led First Assembly's hitting barrage, going five-for-five, including two doubles. Tim Stoekel went four-for-four, plus being walked on his fifth trip to the plate. Tom Skubish homered.

INTO THE TURN. Motorcyclists head into the first turn on the Tri-City Speedway quarter-mile short track led by Larry Mace, No. 443 and closely followed by Neal Keen, No. 10, who has taken a nearly invincible lead in the Tri-City Speedway Short Track championship standings.

Hurriedness, not just speed, is the highway killer.

A man never thinks health is wealth until he swaps his health for wealth.

Cycles on Short Track Saturday

Daytime Gateway Classic Sunday on Big Oval

If one enjoys racing at speeds of over 100 miles per hour and lots of passing, instead of wheel-to-wheel, shoulder-to-shoulder competition, he should see the motorcycle second annual Gateway Classic Sunday on the Tri-City Speedway half-mile oval.

Gateway Classic time trials are at 1 p.m. and the racing program begins at 2 p.m. Sunday.

The Tri-City Speedway's regular weekly pro-cyclist short track, quarter-mile-oval racing will be held Saturday, with time trials at 7:30 p.m. and racing at 8 p.m.

Face-Setter to Compete
Neal Keen, national No. 10, the far and away leader of the Speedway Short Track championship standings, will enter the Gateway Classic riding a 600cc Yamaha.

Darrel Dovel, national No. 45, a frequent visitor to the Saturday Short Track races here, is the defending Classic champion. He is back this year riding a 600cc BSA.

In a Short Track race this spring, Dovel outpaced Keen to the checkered flag. He is the last person to have beaten Keen in a race of any sort. Keen placed second to Dovel in last year's Classic.

Big Bike's Entered
Walt Fulton Jr., National No. 63, will ride the largest displacement bike of the locally known cyclists. His 750cc Harley Davidson is the maximum permitted size.

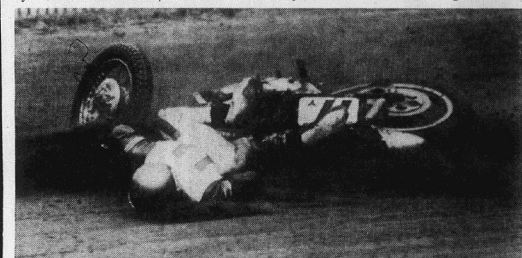

Most of the big racing bikes are two-cylinder with about 650 cubic centimeter displacement. The frames are light and the whole bike often weighs as little as 250 pounds, which is slight considering the motors produce as much as 60 to 70 horsepower. The typical big racing cycle turns over in the neighborhood of 9000 revolutions-per-minute.

Keen's Yamaha will be one of the hottest RPM bikes here, turning over right at 10,000 RPMs.

Distinctive Sound
The most unusual motorcycle here is likely to be a three-cylinder, two-cycle, 500cc Kamaski, a recent addition to the line of racing cycles.

If a person cannot recognize a Kamaski by sight, its distinctive sound should make it easily locatable among the 50 or more big motorcycles to enter here Sunday.

The sound of a 500cc Kamaski is aptly described as similar to a model airplane motor, or rather like a dozen model airplane motors wired together. The big bikes will easily run at over 100 miles an hour on the half-mile straightways and—as always in professional motorcycle racing—none of the cycles has brakes. Instead, riders may downshift and drag their feet.

THE BIGGER THEY ARE. Jim McMurren takes a spill on his 650cc Triumph. He will be among the riders at the Gateway Classic Sunday at Tri-City Speedway.

Homers by Marsala for Keith's Lounge

Has Beens beat Inn Between 6-3, Pieper downed Jim Green Construction 11-8 and Friederich Heating outscored Keith's Lounge 17-13 in Eastern Classic slow-pitch softball Wednesday at Worthen Park.

Has Beens came from a 3-3 scoring deficit to take the lead with four runs in the fifth inning on doubles by Norm Hessler and Guy Wallace, singles by George Sykes and Jack Hubbell and four errors by Inn Between. Has Beens' Hessler earned game batting honors, three-for-three, including two doubles.

Pieper rolled up the winning margin with five hits for four runs in the third and three hits for five runs in the fourth. Deny Johnson homered for Green.

Friederich gained a 24-16 hitting edge paced by Larry Seibold's four safeties and homers by Mark Friederich and Gary Gaines. Keith's Vince Marsala slugged two home runs and Dale Maxvill also homered.

Want a Bridge? Madison Would Sell One at Bargain Price

M-CROOKED LETTER . . . the way some youngsters spell Mississippi, using "crooked letter" for each "s" and "humpback" for each "p." Madison's "crooked bridge" over the crooked-letter river is shown in this photograph; the two-lane span has a sharp turn in the middle.

By Press-Record Staff Photographer

NOT IN THE BEST OF SHAPE. This view of the city-owned Mississippi River bridge, with a flooded area on the Illinois side in the background, shows paint chipping of a metal railing. The bridge

By Press-Record Staff Photographer

was purchased by Madison in 1939 and in its more solvent days was called "the goose that lays golden eggs."

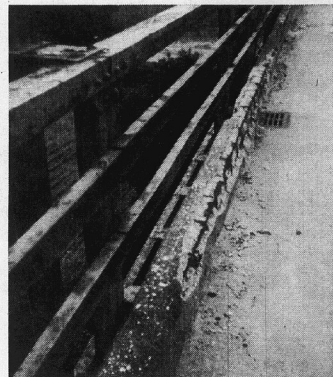

By Press-Record Staff Photographer

MORE THAN ONE ASPECT of Madison's crooked bridge is shown; not only do the traffic lanes turn sharply in the middle, but these outer railings show the effect of a past vehicular crash.

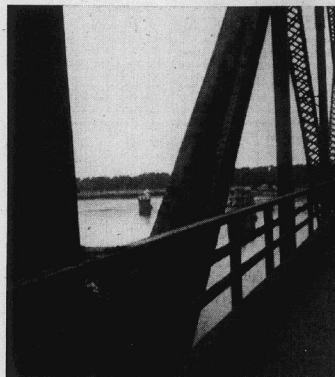

By Press-Record Staff Photographer

IMPERFECTIONS IN SURFACE of Madison's bridge were becoming more numerous prior to the closing of the structure to traffic this year, and it is continuing to suffer the wear and tear of the weather.

By Press-Record Staff Photographer

ADDITIONAL EVIDENCE of the bridge's need for painting and other maintenance work is provided by this view of the curbing separating the traffic lanes from the railing. There is not income to meet repair costs.

By Press-Record Staff Photographer

MAIN BRIDGE GIRDERS also are showing the effects of several years of limited maintenance work, associated with the abrupt change from a profitable toll bridge to a financial burden on the city of Madison.

Upkeep Costs Too Much; No Toll Revenue

"Bridge — for sale, cheap." No, the city of Madison has not placed such an advertisement, but it closely parallels its present mood.

The city-owned Chain of Rocks Bridge, now closed and producing no revenue, is a costly financial burden on the municipality.

Missouri property taxes on the former toll bridge have been reduced, but still represent a regular cost for which there is no matching income. And to perform necessary painting and other repair and maintenance work, the city is faced with a possible decision to incur substantial debts. Such work currently is being delayed, and the rate of deterioration has been slowed somewhat by ending vehicular use of the bridge.

There is no serious inconvenience to the traveling public because a short distance north of the narrow, two-lane, crooked-in-the-middle bridge is a modern, four-lane, straight-as-an-arrow bridge constructed in 1957 by the federal government as part of Interstate 270.

Who would want to buy the city bridge? Madison officials do not know with any degree of certainty, but they are talking with anyone who indicates serious interest.

Mayor Mike Sasyk is willing to listen to virtually any type of proposal which would result in the city disposing of the "white elephant," once described glowingly as "the goose that lays golden eggs."

One idea under study would establish a restaurant in the middle of the structure, with mailboxes and stores extending shoreward in both directions. Customers would park on the river banks and walk onto the bridge. Whether such a development would be feasible is not yet known.

In the meantime, the city is open to any and all suggestions.

STILL AN IMPRESSIVE STRUCTURE. The bridge was purchased under a 25-year bond issue retired in 1964, and its profits enabled Madison to purchase land the same year to establish the now thriving Stephen Maeras Industrial Park. Like the bridge did for many years, the industrial park is producing funds to supplement city tax revenue.

Utilization of surplus funds beginning in 1964 to acquire and develop the industrial land enabled Madison to sign a long-term sale and lease agreements under which a number of manufacturing, fabricating and distributing firms have been attracted to this community.

Once Provided $100,000 Yearly for Municipal Treasury

Three decades have made a municipality, whose property base difference in the value of tax base never has been adequate to provide the level of government and Stephen Maeras was elected as the first mayor. It was during Maeras' 28-year tenure—ended by his death early this year—that the bridge became a big money maker for its owners.

Gasoline rationing during world war II created a temporary problem. Revenue was insufficient to meet the bonded indebtedness, and a limited refinancing program became necessary, stretching out part of the retirement of principal until later years of the 25-year bond issue.

In the postwar era, tolls were continued at the wartime level and a big cash reserve developed. Under a major refinancing in 1948, some of the funds began going to the city treasury, usually about $100,000 a year.

This enabled the city tax to be entirely eliminated for one year, drawing national attention due to the rarity of a tax-free situation in a city of many thousands of people.

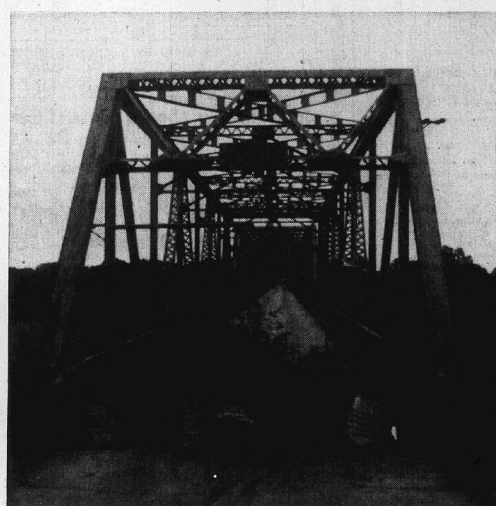

In subsequent years, services were expanded. Madison built new streets, sewers, curbs and sidewalks, remodeled the city hall and fire hall and carried out other improvements.

In addition, a $2½ million balance was amassed, utilized in 1964 to buy a 65-acre industrial tract and during the late 1960s to create the Stephen Maeras Industrial Park on the site.

It was necessary to encumber the $2½ million or tax objections could have been filed, blocking further municipal tax collections for perhaps the next 10 or 11 years.

By continuing taxes but putting the reserve funds to work, Madison officials were able to provide an increase in local jobs, partly offsetting the elimination of the bridge staff.

Bridge employees had been laid off when competition from the new Chain of Rocks Bridge—the free bridge constructed by Uncle Sam as part of Interstate 270—forced tolls to be ended on the city span, situated a few hundred feet downstream.

By Press-Record Staff Photographer

UNUSUAL BARRICADE of dirt and containers blocks auto and truck access to the Chain of Rocks Bridge, which has been closed to delay the time when the costly maintenance projects must be carried out. The barrier was not made more substantial than this in order to permit passage of vehicles which service utility lines carried by the bridge.

River Festival Attendance Totals 117,663; Up 33%

The Mississippi River Festival at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern has ended its second season with a total of 117,663 patrons drawn to the 30-concert symphonic, pop, rock, and folk series. Attendance rose 33.7% over last year's Festival which totaled 87,984.

The season attendance total included 36,234 at St. Louis Symphony concerts, up 34.9% over last season, and 81,429 at rock-folk concerts, an increase of 20,300 over the 1969 rock-folk total.

Chicago was the most popular rock-folk attraction of the season, drawing 15,878. Henry Mancini appeared as guest conductor with the symphony and drew 7478.

Plans are being made for another season in 1971, but before the festival can be held, the directors must reassess the financial situation. The festival was held only after a complete audit of the season. Dr. John S. Rendleman, chancellor of Southern Illinois University-Southwestern, home of the Festival, said.

Pleased at Success
"We are very pleased that the Festival has been so successful this year. Attendance gained substantially and we were able to improve the quality of the entire concert series," John L. Gillies, senior vice-president of Monsanto and president of the Festival, said.

The MRF board will meet Sept. 29. Peter Pastreich, managing director of the Festival, said earlier that "we look upon it (a 1971 season) as a sure thing."

The 1970 Festival featured the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, directed by Walter Susskind, and stars from stage, screen and television in a series of rock and folk concerts. Outstanding guest conductors shared the podium with Leonard Slatkin, assistant conductor of the symphony, in a special series of Sunday evening pop concerts.

The 1970 Festival was sponsored by Mississippi River Festival, Inc., a not-for-profit Illinois organization with directors from both Illinois and Missouri.

The Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees contributed $75,000 to the new corporation and a similar sum was donated by corporations, foundations and individuals in the St. Louis metropolitan area to finance the Festival.

Box office attendance figures for the season:

St. Louis Symphony, July 2, 220; New Christy Minstrels, July 3, 2500; St. Louis Symphony, July 4, 4146; St. Louis Symphony, July 5, 2030; Grateful Dead, July 8, 8400; St. Louis Symphony, July 9 (Zukerman), 702; Cannonball Adderly, July 10, 2800; St. Louis Symphony, July 11 (Zukerman), 1288; St. Louis Symphony, July 12 (Mancini), 7478.

MORE ABOUT

Nameoki

Weeks ago, it had been notified of the action but had not complied in presenting bills for approval in the Monday night meeting. The board then decided to hold up action on all bills except the payroll until the requirement is met.

The payroll which the board approved because board members said they did not believe the employees should be penalized because of board problems, amounted to $1605.

$1634 Claims Unpaid
Bills for all funds presented for approval Monday night amounted to $3239, including the payroll. This left a total of $1634 worth of township claims that was not approved.

The board Monday night also agreed to undertake installation of two large culverts that would drain Horseshoe Lake into the Cahokia Creek canal in an effort to lower the lake level by at least one foot. Board members authorized Whitsell to enter with Randall Robertson, attorney for Granite City Steel Co., to offer the township's efforts in installing culverts, although Granite City Steel Co. earlier had offered aid in the project to the East Side Levee and Sanitary district.

Granite City Steel Co. has offered to finance installation work at a cost of from $8000 to $10,000 and to furnish two tank cars to be used as culverts. The ends would be cut from the culverts which would be installed beneath the levee road at the south section of the lake, supplementing two existing 36-inch culverts that drain the lake into the Cahokia Creek Canal.

Citizens Group Reports
Members of the Nameoki Township Citizens Committee on drainage problems, headed by Thomas North, attended the meeting and urged lowering of the Horseshoe Lake level as one of the primary actions necessary to improving drainage facilities. Whitsell reported that he and William Nichols, operator of the Nichols Net & Twine Co., ditch that extends along Highway 162.

This overflow water apparently was highly polluted, Whitsell reported, and had a reddish tint. The overflow that drained into the lake carried the color with it, he said.

Whitsell said he intends to report this condition by letter to the Illinois State Sanitary Water Board.

Unihw District Has Cub Scout Roundtable

The Unihw District of the Cahokia Mound Council held its Cub Scout Roundtable Tuesday night at Wilson Park.

The group was welcomed by Ron Luebben, Roundtable commissioner who introduced Dave Warren, Cubmaster of Pack 8 which was host.

School Night for Scouting was discussed with questions answered by Bill Irelan, assistant district Scout Executive. Literature for this recruiting program was distributed to cubmasters.

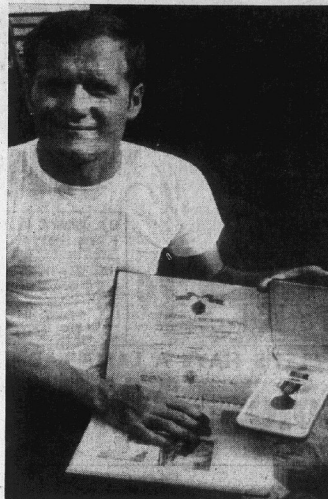

Den Doodles and their purpose in the Dens were explained by Mr. Luebben. Dale Ramey assistant district commissioner, told the group about Camp Cahokia, a camp site which belongs to the council and is in need of redevelping on a volunteer basis.

The campsite is located at Litchfield, Ill.

The meeting closed with Floyd Jordan explaining and then retiring the American Flag in the proper manner, with the audience singing God Bless America.

Collect $8.5 Million Franchise Fees in July

A total of $8,544,738 in franchise taxes and other fees was collected by the Corporation Division during July, according to figures released today by Secretary of State Paul Powell.

The Division has now collected $20,163,681 during the first seven months of this year. Last year the Division collected $24,408,334.88 in the first seven months, including $10,975,387.87 in July.

Secretary Powell explained that the decrease in July collections and in the first seven months total result from a decrease in the minimum annual franchise tax from $100 to $25.

New corporations receiving Certificates of Incorporation and Authority totaled 1,000 during July, a decrease of 48 from the 1,188 new corporations licensed in July of 1969.

During the first seven months of this year, 7,735 new corporations have been issued certificates in Illinois. The 1970 total represents a decrease of 800 from the 8,425 new corporations registered for the same period of 1969, but an increase of 628 over the 7,007 new corporations in the first seven months of 1968.

ALTAR SOCIETY PLANS POT LUCK DINNER
St. Ann's Altar Society of St. Joseph Church met Tuesday evening in the rectory hall.

Mrs. Ann Pieper, president, was in charge and Mrs. Irma Manning gave a financial report. There was also a report of the last meeting.

Mrs. Margaret Minzes discussed the meeting early in the month of the Alton Deanery Diocese of Catholic Women held at St. Boniface Church in Alton, and a motion was made and carried to purchase new Papal and American flags for the church sanctuary. Plans were made also for pot luck dinner to be held prior to the Sept. 8 meeting. Each member is to bring a covered dish or dessert.

The meeting closed with prayer and refreshments were served.

School Lunches to Cost GC Students 5¢ Extra

The price of school lunches will be increased five cents in Granite City public schools during the new school year, according to plans approved by the board of education Monday night.

The price will go from 35 cents to 40 cents at elementary schools and from 40 to 45 cents at junior and senior high schools.

Extra milk also will cost more, from three to four cents for students and eight cents for adults.

The board considered a proposal to raise the price of lunches for adults to 75 cents, from 50 cents at elementary schools and 55 cents at upper levels.

The cost of preparing adult lunches was estimated at an average of 77 cents as no commodities or subsidies are received for such lunches, the board was informed.

Higher Education in U. S. Nears $7 Billion

Appropriations of state tax funds for annual operating expenses of higher education in the United States for the 1970-71 fiscal year will be near $7 billion, Illinois State University researcher reports.

Dr. M. M. Chambers, professor of higher education at ISU, is author of "Grapevine," a newsletter on state tax legislation for higher education which is distributed in all 50 states. He is widely acknowledged as the nation's leading source for such data.

With only two large states and one small one as yet unreported, it becomes a certainty, Dr. Chambers explains, that the 50-state total for fiscal 1970-71 will be close to $7 billion. This would be a two-year gain of about 35% over fiscal 1968-69.

Such a rate of gain, he said, is necessary to keep pace with increasing numbers of students and faculty members, the rising level of instruction, the "explosion of knowledge," continued inflation of prices and wages, and other factors that increase the annual costs of the educational enterprise.

JULIA MEEHAN

Misses Pace, Meehan Win $100 Scholarships

Scholarships of $100 each have been presented to two Venice high school graduates now attending nursing schools by the Venice Women's Club.

They are Miss Julia Meehan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Meehan, 1224 Klein street, and Miss Kathleen Pace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Pace, 1238 Klein street.

Miss Meehan is a senior in the school of nursing at DePaul Hospital, St. Louis, and Miss Pace is a senior in the school of nursing at St. Joseph's Hospital at Alton.

The club has awarded a total of $3000 in scholarships to VHS graduates.

'One-Eyed Jacks' to Play at 'Y' Teen Town

The YMCA Teen Town will feature the "One-Eyed Jacks" at its regular weekly dance from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. Monday.

The group has appeared at the "Y" on several previous occasions, attracting large crowds. The dance will be held in the gym. Admission will be $1 for "Y" members and $1.50 for non-members.

Scheduled for the rest of the "Y" summer dance schedule are the "Seven" on Aug. 24, "Red Speedwagon" on Aug. 27 and "U. S. Kids" on Aug. 31.

Checkerboard Squares Form New Dancing Team

The Checkerboard Squares have added another dance form to their varied routines.

Under the direction of Miss Sherine Boyd, a select group of Checkerboard girls have developed an interpretive dance team named "The Red, White and Blue Revue" in keeping with the group's patriotic theme.

The team has won the approval of audiences as the Checkerboard Squares.

SIU Fall Schedule To Begin on Sept. 18

Willis E. Malone, acting chancellor of Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, has released a time schedule for undergraduate student processing that reveals fall quarter activities will start with advisement and registration Sept. 18. Classes begin the evening of Sept. 22.

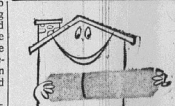

The schedule, which also contains dates for opening of winter and spring quarter activities, does not apply to graduate students, who are processed according to a different pattern.

The Sept. 18 advisement and registration date is set aside for new general studies students only. The following day is a registration-advisement period for all new students.

Moonspinners 4-H Club Holds August Meeting

The August meeting of the Granite City Moonspinners 4-H Club was held Thursday evening at Nameoki Presbyterian Church with leaders Mrs. Eleanor Kozol and Mrs. Carol Davis in charge.

Vice-president Mary Kay Becherer presented gifts to both leaders on behalf of all the members. Included with the gifts were exact replicas of the 4-H Blue Ribbon.

Mary Kay Becherer conducted the meeting, and pledges were led by Carolyn Goldschlag and Mary Beth Favier. Roll was called by Diane Becherer, and Jackie Dorch read the minutes of the July meeting.

Kathy Turch presented a demonstration on how to prepare "Butterscotch Crunchies." The leaders then awarded ribbons and premiums to the girls who had not as yet received theirs. Records of the past year's projects were collected.

Mrs. Kozol and Mrs. Davis served punch and strawberry angel food cake dessert to those mentioned and Mesdames R. Uram, H. Garich, R. Turch, R. Heintz, D. Schmidt, and the following members: Cheryl Bellue, Susan Davis, Jo Marie DeMott, Sheila Hintz, Laura Jean Mann, Anita Turner, Laura Carlich, Anne DeRuitz, Kathleen DeRuitz, Tammy Duff, Betty Kismadina, Maria Schmidt, Anne Marie Uram and Mary Beth Vesel.

The group will not meet in September but will hold their next meeting on Thursday, Oct. 1, at the church.

Studies for Doctorate, Represents Sheikdom

What a life it is! A doctoral candidate at Southern Illinois University burns himself up at night to beat deadline of graduation, while commuting to New York City and Washington, D. C., three or four days a week to fulfill his duties as the diplomatic representative of the ruler of a rich oil-deposit state in the Middle East.

Seif Wady Ramahi, 32, represents Prince Zaid Ben Sultan, ruler of Abu Dhabi, a state of about 80,000 square kilometers to the United States and to the United Nations. Abu Dhabi, with inhabitants of 65,000, produces about 20 million tons of oil annually. It is located on the southwestern side of the Arabian Gulf.

Wady maintains representation in New York and Washington, but spends weekends and "free" evenings in Carbondale to complete a 40-page doctoral dissertation concerning oil's impact on the economic development and political evolution in the Gulf Sheikdoms. He hopes to receive the degree of doctor of philosophy at SIU's summer commencement on Sept. 5.

Airman Michael Higgins Assigned to Luke AFB

Airman Michael E. Higgins, son of Mrs. Marilyn R. Higgins, 2901 Kirkpatrick, has graduated at Keesler AFB, Miss., from the training course for U. S. Air Force air traffic controllers.

Airman Higgins, who was trained in airport traffic control, is being assigned to Luke AFB, Ariz., for duty with the 207th Communications Squadron, a unit of the Air Force Communications Service which provides global communications and air traffic control for the USAF.

A 1968 graduate of Granite City senior high school, the airman attended Southern Illinois University - Southwestern campus. His father, Edmund E. Higgins, resides at 204 Madison avenue, Madison.

Kevin Nicol Awarded Paul Powell Scholarship

Kevin C. Nicol, a Granite City member of the Black Knights Drum & Bugle Corps of Belleville, has been awarded a $1000 scholarship by Secretary of State Paul Powell.

The state official annually presents four scholarships from his personal funds through the Illinois Drum & Bugle Corps Association.

The awards were presented at the association championship contest held recently at Bradley.

Nicol plans to enroll this fall at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern where he has accepted a music scholarship.

A 1970 graduate of Granite City high school, he has been a member of the Black Knights since he was 14. He then joined the Tancered chapter, Order of DeMolay, to which all corps members belong.

Plays Soprano Bugle

He has played lead soprano bugle and has done extensive solo work since the time he joined the corps.

Forrest T. Creson, director-manager of the corps, had been notified earlier that Nicol was chosen as a finalist in the competition, pending a personal interview, an essay on the topic "The Effect of Corps Membership on My Life" was required.

Among other previous requirements, an essay on the topic "The Effect of Corps Membership on My Life" was required.

as well as character recommendations and a transcript of grades.

Nicol is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin O. Nicol, 3703 Franklin avenue.

State Legislature's Ability to Accomplish Assigned Objectives Has Waned to Alarming Degree

By JEFFREY LEVENS
Student Reporting Project, University of Illinois

Children are thrilled at the sight of the Illinois Capitol Building in Springfield. The statue of Lincoln on the front walk; the huge dome, reflecting the sunlight or outlined against heroic, prairie clouds—it's all like a patriotic painting in a museum.

Inside they marvel at the paneled walls of the House and Senate chambers, the awesome speaker's rostrum and the no-less-awe-inspiring assembly of men who can speak so wondrously, even if no one is listening.

Perhaps the anachronistic Victorian beauty—or garishness; it depends on your taste—is all too appropriate for the legislative body the building houses, the Illinois General Assembly.

For thousands of Illinois citizens, and not a few legislators, there is a deep sense that their main legislative body just isn't up to date, isn't structured so as to respond to 20th Century challenges.

Is the legislature, they ask, the most typical horse-and-buggy institution of the old, 18th Century?

One leading member was asked recently:

"What is wrong with the Illinois legislature, I ask?"

"There is something wrong with the legislature, I ask?"

Finally, with wry exaggeration, he blurted, "I'm trying to decide if there's anything right with it."

The Illinois Constitutional Convention (Con-Con) has been the important task of revitalizing this important body suffering from "fired blood."

One need not question the sincerity of our representatives to agree with most experts that the legislature's ability to accomplish its assigned objectives is waning.

Why the steadily declining power of state legislatures, harrowed by constitutional restrictions and usurpation of the legislative function, has gone far toward destroying popular interest in and respect for this representative body? Byron R. Abernethy writes in "Constitutional Limitations on the Legislature."

The 1967 report of the Illinois Committee for the Organization of the General Assembly says a number of legislators simply lack the tools necessary to carry out their responsibilities in an effective manner."

"Members of the House," the report continues, "do not have offices of their own, no personal staff assistance, and do not have personal secretaries."

"Members of the Senate usually share inadequate offices and do not have personal staff assistance. They do have a secretary but usually share secretaries with another senator."

But a large office building will soon be under construction. And legislators have been dispersed to vote themselves an annual salary of $15,000.

These are simple problems. They may be difficult to solve if there are no funds, perhaps.

Other unusual suggestions which have been submitted include:

A counterclockwise telephone dial for left-handed persons.

A telephone which could double as an adding machine.

A "prince" telephone in shape of a tobacco pipe as a masculine counterpart to the Princess phone.

Windmills on telephone poles to frighten woodpeckers.

"Mod" telephones styled in stripes checks and polka dots.

"We don't challenge or question customer ideas at the counter," Dietz explained. "But sometimes it is hard for our people to keep from being authoritative with customers."

The centralized thinking in suggestions through AT&T was set up so that ideas could be evaluated on the basis of system-wide applicability, Dietz said.

Other people tell their ideas to repairmen, installers or other employees with direct customer contact. Dietz recommends these customers be handled in this way:

Urge the person to write to the area chief engineer indicating he would like to submit an idea for possible use in the AT&T system.

As an alternative, pass the suggestion along to the supervisor who can forward it through channels to the area chief engineer.

but they are easy to put a finger on.

There are other problems, hidden within the working of the Constitution and dwelling in the power of executive order—burdensome to find, cumbersome to alter, loathsome to adherents of good government theory but, in the not-so-distant past, handy in profits for the unscrupulous, and congenial to the lazy.

Con-Con is considering many new measures, none so radical that no state has yet attempted them, yet new for the people of Illinois.

New delegates must consider annual sessions, new procedures for special sessions, new legislative dates for legislative session, new committee organization and possibly (although doubtful) a one-house legislature.

Article IV of the present constitution is the legal basis for the legislative department. It contains 34 sections encompassing everything from election of members to control of Chicago streets.

The Illinois General Assembly is a bicameral legislature. It convenes in regular session in the State Capitol in January of every odd-numbered year.

Fifty-eight senators are elected from single-member districts to serve two-year terms, while 177 representatives, three from each district, serve two-year terms. Representatives are elected by means of a unique cumulative voting system which usually allows the minor party to elect one district member.

Two problems are immediately apparent.

First, does the legislature need two houses?

Although Nebraska has reported success with its unicameral legislature, no other state has followed its example. And it is unlikely that Illinois will follow.

The second problem is the bicameral system.

The Katz Commission, organized to study the form of the legislature and headed by state representative Harold A. Katz, in 1967 reported, "It is generally conceded that annual sessions of the legislature are essential if the legislature is to meet its responsibilities to the people of Illinois."

Problems such as education, health, housing, transportation, urban decay and transportation, the report says, "do not begin in January and end in December. Each odd-numbered year; they are permanent problems that deserve the sustained attention of the Illinois legislature."

A constitutional change to annual sessions also would work subtle but key changes in the attitudes of the men who serve in the legislature. They probably cannot be worked by codes of ethics or do-gooder broadsides.

For, with the advent of an annual session, the occupation of "legislators" must necessarily be re-defined. Members of the General Assembly, except for a few, is now part-time work.

Next: Legislative effectiveness.

Analysis, Dietz explained, "is not a simple process. It is a process of discovery. If there are no funds, perhaps."

Why not construct floating pay-telephone booths in the Atlantic and Pacific oceans so that people or ocean liners can stop and make calls?

The 11-year-old boy who sent this suggestion to the Bell System was politely told that ships have radio telephones which provide the same service more efficiently at less expense.

But his idea was not uniquely unusual among the thousands of suggestions which pour into the Bell System each year from an inventive public.

Many of the ideas come from customers with only a vague plan for improving telephone service, according to S. C. Dietz, general headquarters equipment engineer.

Dietz processes customer proposals which flow from his company and forwards them to AT&T's Suggestions Studies Group in New York.

AT&T then negotiates with the hopeful inventor or, more often, explains diplomatically that the proposal is not new or practical.

For example, one customer suggested the Bell System launch a space craft to the moon carrying one of a telephone cable which would unwind from a giant reel.

He was told that even if a wire could stand the stress of a 230,000-mile span, it soon would snarl into a spaghetti-like mass as the earth trembled and the moon moved.

Constitutional Change Likely to Affirm That Women Are Entitled to Equal Rights

There has been a lot of talk this summer about the "women's liberation movement" and the possibility of a nationwide sitdown late this month to dramatize the drive for full equality of opportunity for females. We don't know whether its action will take the wind out of the sails of the proposed demonstration, but the U. S. House of Representatives has taken a significant step by authorizing a Constitutional amendment guaranteeing equal rights for women.

Subject to Senate approval, the amendment is to be submitted to the states for ratification; favorable action by 38 of the 50 states would place it in effect. It seems certain that they will get an opportunity to act on the amendment, since 79 of the 100 U. S. Senators are pledged to support it.

Because it seems so obvious that women are entitled to the same rights as men, it is difficult to understand why the proposal has been actively—but negatively—considered for such a span as 47 years. Yet it has taken that long for a majority support to develop—and numerous state and federal laws and regulations have been enacted and issued during that time limiting women's activities or giving them special, rather than equal, status.

The proposed amendment, "Equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any state on account of sex," is deceptively simple. Although brief, it would automatically overturn all existing statutes, ordinances and procedures which contradict it.

There is no good reason why the fair sex should not receive equal jobs and pay where qualified, or equal status in other aspects of life. Opponents have for such the amendment could lead to endless lawsuits, drafting of women into the armed services, assignment of women workers to hazardous or exhausting jobs and alimony payments. But most of these possibilities seem unlikely. We recall that federal anti-job-discrimination orders several years ago raised fears that men might have to leave their jobs as Playboy Club "bunnies," but common sense prevailed.

Of course, even if the amendment is ratified, men at least those with good vision—are still going to recognize women as equal or identical. As they say in France, "Viva la difference!"

Population Center of Nation Moving This Way But May Be Edging a Bit to the South

Will the Quad-Cities become the population center of the nation?

For a time it seemed possible; the theoretical center of the United States has been edging westward with each new ten-year census, reflecting the fact that the western states, led by California, are growing at a faster rate than those east of us.

The population center moved into Illinois in 1950 and has been six miles northwest of Centerville since 1960. Now, preliminary census tabulations indicate that it may move to Clinton or St. Clair counties—approaching our longitude but a few miles south of our latitude.

Even in 1980 the center may still be in Illinois, although barely so, or it could move across the Mississippi River into Missouri. It has progressed 720 miles from the first placement near Baltimore in 1790, and the trend is still toward the west and south. But the fast growth of Florida and certain other states is preventing any giant westward steps.

How important is the distinction of being located precisely in the heart of America? Fame is fleeting, and the center of the nation receives considerable public attention and generally have reported sharp increases in their volume of tourism.

In the event the center point misses the Quad-Cities by a short distance, local motor hotels and restaurants may wish to point out that this community is an excellent "jumping off place" from which to view the "population capital" of the 1970s.

Let's Not Count on Federal Angels To Save Us (With Our Own Money)

(Polk County Democrat, Bartow, Fla.)

The Pennsylvania Central Railroad is not the first big business in this nation to be in financial difficulty, and it won't be the last. It seems more personal to most people, perhaps, because of the romantic aura that surrounds railroading.

To those who traveled to any extent, there is a nostalgic feeling of nostalgia as a passenger train rattles by. There is no less an attraction to the stay-at-homes, at the thought of the adventures toward which the briefly-glimpsed passengers may be headed.

Unfortunately, railroading is a sick industry—as far as human travel is concerned, at least—and the number of thundering iron monsters is growing less year by year. There is wide disagreement as to the cause of the sickness; but whatever the cause, federal officials made a wise decision in refusing to advance the money which by Penn Central to pull itself out of its present financial jam.

A nationally-known economist said it well: "If the government were to rescue every private business that got into financial trouble, there would still be stage coaches running between Philadelphia and Washington."

It would be a comforting feeling for every business owner to know that if he keeps on, there would be a federal angel standing by with buckets of gold to solve all his money problems. But that isn't the way the free enterprise system works.

For this nation to maintain its internal strength, private business must continue to count on free enterprise—not federal angels—for its own salvation.

It is fortunate for some families that they don't have to pay taxes on the income level they're trying to live up to.

Inversion, Mercury Among the Health Hazards Created by Pollution

By U. S. SENATOR RALPH TYLER SMITH

Recent headlines have indicated the scope of the problem, but cannot remove the Great Lakes from the dangers of pollution to the individual.

"Rain Falls Smog-heset City" titled an article about the pollution of the Great Lakes. The article stated that the pollution caused by atmospheric inversion, which keeps the smoke and exhaust from rising.

It did not mention the allergy sufferers who would be subjected to severe reactions. The thousands of people who would be under stinging, watering eyes, coughing or sore throats.

"Two Scientists Warn Hill of 'Mercury Epidemic'" detailed the danger of poisonous mercury build-up in the human system from eating many kinds of fish.

The same evidence has led Scandinavian countries to ban the sale of all non-deep water fish and to discourage use of fish in the diet more than once a week.

As recently as 1964, the average person's weekly intake of mercury was 35 micrograms.

Today, the average intake would be 300 micrograms on a vegetarian diet, 350 with "a little meat and as high as 780 micrograms on a diet of highly contaminated fish.

The plan may also provide relief for taxpayers, but cannot remove the Great Lakes from the dangers of pollution to the individual.

The law allows school boards to adopt full-year school schedules. The main requirement is that each student must attend classes for not less than 180 days nor more than 185 days.

The idea is not to speed up the educational process, but to make more efficient use of school funds, and to employ teachers for a longer working period, reduce class size, and to forward it, eliminate the need for double sessions.

Health, Education and Welfare to Begin Immediately Three Part Study of the Health Hazards of Pollution

First, a study of the nature and gravity of the health hazards created by air, water and other pollutants to rising populations concentrated in soot and gas-laden atmospheres in urban and industrial centers.

Second, a survey of the medical and other assistance available to persons suffering from pollution, especially pollution "emergency levels."

At the completion of his inquiries and within nine months of the bill's enactment, the HEW Secretary would report his findings, evaluations and recommendations to Congress.

I would hope that this report would result, as did both the Surgeon General's Report on Smoking and Health and the Secretary's Report on Pesticides and the Environment, in a forthright, dispassionate and authoritative treatment of the problem.

This report is needed because of what we do not know about the health hazards of pollution. But we have a responsibility to protect our fellow man from the effects of our neglect.

Under the law, teachers may not be required to teach more than 185 days during the school year but they are not prohibited from voluntarily teaching for longer periods.

The new law—Senate Bill 1458—is an amendment to the full-year school law. The latter allowed school districts to operate schools on a 12-month calendar during the 25-day school term into quarters.

It provided that 75% of the effort is to be made in each year by the same family on the same schedule.

Name and address must accompany each letter but will not be revealed. Generosity is requested. Comments of less than 250 words will be given priority. All are subject to condensation and grammatical changes. Those libelous or not in good taste will be rejected or edited.

HOPE TO CURB TAXING AGENCY PROLIFERATION

To the Editor:

By the time you read this, the Illinois Constitutional Convention should be in recess. The recess is to allow the Style and Drafting Committee to clarify and polish the language of the work of the convention through second reading.

The convention is slated to complete its work the week of Aug. 24 and should adjourn sine die by Aug. 29.

During the convention, I have attempted to inform you of the highlights of the changes recommended by the group on first reading. The convention finished last reading Aug. 4.

Highlights of the actions decided on first reading following the last report include the following:

1. Turns around the outmoded "Dillon's Rule" which necessitated that the cities and counties must have authorization from the General Assembly to govern themselves.

It is now to be stated that the cities and counties may exercise any power and perform any function pertaining to their government and affairs, including the power to regulate, to tax, to license and to incur debt.

To receive these broad powers a city must have 10,000 residents (1 disagree with any population minimum) to receive them automatically, but any other municipality may secure them by referendum until the convention closes, and then I hope to discuss the final actions.

7. States that public transportation is an essential government function in their government and affairs, including the power to regulate, to tax, to license and to incur debt.

8. Makes it a public policy of the state to protect, conserve and restore its natural resources and sets up a commission to administer the program.

9. Appreciates the status of the Press-Record in helping to disseminate the news of the convention. This will be my last report until the convention closes, and then I hope to discuss the final actions.

A crowd of pickets patrolled the main gate, leaving an estimated 1250 to 1800 workers idle, including over 100 members of another local. The strike was a result of the inability of union and company leaders to reach an agreement on a new contract.

Ocean 5 Miles Deep, But Floor May Once Have Been Dry Land

(American Institute of Physics)

The deepest part of the Atlantic Ocean floor may once have been dry land, two Columbia University scientists have found.

Their new discovery supports the theory of continental drift, which suggests that North and South America, Africa and Europe may have been one continent hundreds of millions of years ago.

The scientists discovered the remains of shallow-water life in rock that is under five miles of water below the eastern end of the Dominican Republic.

It was found in the base of a 25,000-foot-high underwater limestone cliff at the western end of the Puerto Rico Trench, the deepest part of the Atlantic (27,500 feet deep). The floor was a type that grows only in shallow reefs and tropical lagoons.

The finding convinced the scientists—Bruce C. Heezen, Professor of Geology at Columbia, and Paul J. Fox, a graduate student at the University—that this portion of the earth's crust had been by more than 20,000 feet during the past 150 to 200 million years.

This led them to what they call "the remarkable conclusion that the deepest portion of the Atlantic Ocean was once a dry, coral reef-bordered land."

"Coral reefs don't grow

Illinois Areas Protest Utility Smoke Emissions

Two Illinois communities, angered at dense drifting smoke emissions from a Missouri power plant just north of St. Louis, have asked Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott to pursue the matter in their behalf.

Scott, in turn, has directed his pollution control chief, Jim D. Kehner, of Belleville, to officially relay the growing number of protests directly to the office of Missouri Attorney General John C. Danforth, for presentation to the Missouri Air Conservation Commission.

Governmental agencies and residents of the Alton and Godfrey areas are directing their ire at the Union Electric Portage des Sioux power generating plant which is located on the Missouri side of the Mississippi River, just opposite the two Illinois communities.

Specifically, the Illinoisans are objecting to a request by Union Electric for a permanent exemption from Missouri emission laws at the Portage des Sioux power plant.

Primary objector is the Environmental Ecological Control Committee of the City of Alton, the city's new antipollution agency. As one of its first actions, the committee officially asked Scott to "please convey to the Missouri Air Conservation Commission the strong and sincere conviction of this committee that present emissions from the Portage des Sioux plant are harmful to this area of Illinois and the equally strong and sincere conviction that the (Missouri Air Conservation Commission) should insist on compliance with the law of its state and should refuse to grant the variance requested by the Union Electric Co."

Safety Responsibility Law Affects All Drivers Alike

You were not at fault in that automobile accident and the other driver was ticketed and fined, but your driver's license was suspended.

How can that happen? Under certain circumstances, it is required by law, Secretary of State Paul Powell explained today.

In all accidents resulting in $100 or more property damage, death or personal injury, the Safety Responsibility Law applies, and that law makes no distinction between those who are at fault and those who are not, Mr. Powell pointed out. All persons operating or owning motor vehicles involved in such accidents must meet that law's requirements or face the loss of their driving privileges or registration privileges or both.

The first requirement of the S-R Law is that the accident be reported to the Division of Highway Works and Buildings on a form furnished by the Division.

This is in addition to any other reports made to police or other government agencies. If the damages do not exceed $250, reporting the accident is all that is required.

If, however, the damages exceed $250, proof of financial responsibility must be established. If public liability and property damage insurance was in effect at the time of this accident, that information should be included in the report, giving the name of the insurance company and the policy number. When the report has been received and the Division has verified the insurance coverage, the person involved has established his compliance with the S-R Law, and no further action is taken.

But if no report is filed or if the report fails to show that insurance was in effect, that driver or owner will be certified by the Division to the Secretary of State and the Division will notify the individual of the certifying compliance with the law has not been established, the Secretary of State will notify the driver or owner that he must meet additional S-R requirements within 10 days or lose his driving privileges or registration privileges or both.

One such requirement is that the driver or owner must post security in the amount of the damages as determined by the Division of Highways. This may be in the form of cash, surety bond or bank money order. The security deposit will not be required if the driver or owner submits releases from the other parties involved in the accident relieving him from any liability, by submitting certified evidence from a court that he has been judged not liable, or by executing a duly acknowledged agreement providing for payment of all damages.

Another requirement is that the driver or owner file proof of his future financial responsibility, which must be maintained for three years. This may be done by filing a certificate of insurance, by filing a bond in the amount of $25,000, or by depositing $25,000 in cash. Failure to meet those requirements of the S-R Law will result in the suspension of the driving privileges or registration privileges or both.

And, as pointed out earlier, the S-R Law makes no distinction between those who are at fault and those who are not.

And, as pointed out earlier, the S-R Law makes no distinction between those who are at fault and those who are not.

Cong. Price Heads Study Of Lobbying Activities

Chairman Melvin Price (D-East St. Louis) and Ranking Member Jackson Betts (R-Ohio), of the House Committee on Standards of Official Conduct, have announced public hearings for Sept. 10, 15, 16 and 17 to seek views on lobbying activities, which the committee recently was assigned to study.

"We hope to develop constructive ideas to determine what if any remedial legislative action is necessary to make regulation of lobbying more effective," Chairman Price, of the bipartisan committee, said.

"We want to hear from all who want to be heard, including members of Congress, representatives of lobbying organizations, as well as any other interested persons, before drafting our recommendations."

The hearings have been scheduled, Price and Betts noted, in response to a resolution adopted recently by the House, directing the committee to conduct investigations and studies looking to any necessary remedial legislation with respect to lobbying activities and the raising, reporting and use of campaign funds for candidates for the House.

The committee decided, Mr. Price said, to hold hearings on lobbying and campaign finances separately as many witnesses would wish to testify on only one of the topics.

"Despite the fact there are some relationships between the two, I feel we can get a better grasp of the overall picture, from the Committee viewpoint as well, by this method," Mr. Price said.

The hearings on campaign finances are expected to follow shortly after conclusion of the lobbying study.

The announcement invited anyone interested in submitted views on lobbying to do so, either by forwarding a statement or if they desire to appear in person, by contacting the Committee at 2360 Rayburn House Office Building.

Powell Formally Seeks Ruling on Age 18 Vote

Secretary of State Paul Powell has requested an opinion from Attorney General William J. Scott regarding the constitutionality of recent federal legislation permitting 18-year-olds to vote.

"I have supported the right of 18-year-old men and women to vote, and I have so urged the delegate to the Constitutional Convention now meeting in Springfield to support this proposition," Powell said. "However, it is incumbent upon me as secretary of the State Electoral Board to seek the opinion of Attorney General Scott. Governor Ogilvie, as chairman of the State Electoral Board, has concurred that this opinion be sought."

Powell posed three questions as to a possible conflict, if any, between the Constitution and laws of Illinois on one hand and the recent federal law.

The first question relates to the difference between the 1870 State Constitution, which provides that a person must be 21 in order to vote, and Public Law 91-285, which establishes 18 as the age of eligibility to vote. Does the federal law supersede the Constitution?

The second relates as to which election Public Law 91-285 effects. Will it effect an election held in Illinois after Jan. 1, 1971, whether it be a primary, general election or special election, the special election on submission of the newly-proposed Illinois Constitution, or an election for approval or rejection of a bond issue or tax increase?

The third question arises as to Section 202 (e) which speaks of a beginning of a residency in the state after the 30 days next preceding an election. Does Public Law 91-285 supersede any Illinois law which provides for more than 30 days?

Law 91-285, as approved June 22, 1970, by President Nixon, is effective Jan. 1, 1971. The U. S. Supreme Court is expected to rule on its constitutionality before then.

Psychic Phenomena to Feature Lecture Theme

"Among the Spirits" is the theme of the only Artist-Lecture Series event on Southern Illinois University's summer schedule at Southwestern campus.

The program, scheduled Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Communications Building Theater, has been described as "weird, gripping, entertaining, educational and hilarious." The public is invited, admission free.

Demonstrations of psychic phenomena will be made by Howard Higgins, former dean of Emerson College in Boston and head of its Division of Psychology and Education.

Prof. Higgins first became interested in the methods of mediums and fortune-tellers while working toward the doctorate in psychology. He found it to investigate certain phenomena adequately he needed a thorough background in metaphysics as well as in academic psychology.

He has continued his study of magic as a hobby.

The program is in two parts, the first a composite scene made up of features from seances by leading mediums. Even sophisticated audiences have been led to believe in the possibility of fortune-telling, Higgins says.

Then follows the expose. Demonstrations of alleged psychic phenomena, speech and music are blended in an expose that is "dramatic, interesting and entertaining," according to Prof. William Shaw of SIU, chairman of the Artist-Lecture Series.

Higgins is author of "Influencing Behavior Through Speech," used widely as a college textbook on the psychology of persuasive speech.

Catholic Children To Make Annual Boat Trip

The superintendent of the Catholic Children's Home, Rev. Maurice J. Quilligan, along with the Precious Blood Sisters and the children have been invited by Captain William Streckfus of the Steamer Admiral to be his guests on the Mississippi pleasure boat on Friday, Aug. 21.

The trip this year will be a special occasion as it will be the 20th anniversary since Capt. Joe Streckfus invited Father "Andy" to be his guest in 1950.

The sisters will remember their 10th anniversary trip in 1960 when Capt. Roy Streckfus invited Father Andy to take a "turn" at the wheel on the down river part of the trip.

The trip is sponsored by Alton Council No. 460, Knights of Columbus, under the guidance of Grand Knight, Wesley Wright. The other councils in Madison County at Granite City, Council 1098, Collinsville, Edwardsville, Highland, Bethalto and Wood River also co-sponsor this project and all summer entertainment projects of the Home.

Two diocesan seminarians assigned by Bishop William O'Connor of Springfield assist in all summer projects and will accompany the group. The general chairman of this committee for the past 20 years is C. Paul Crivello, a Postal Station Supervisor at the Upper Alton Station. Mr. and Mrs. Crivello will personally supervise the bus trip to St. Louis and will accompany the group for the pleasure trip.

Dan Romani Gets SIU-SW Foreign Language Post

Magazine Features Article on Port

Development and growth of the Tri-City Regional Port district is outlined in a three-page article in "River Pilot," a magazine of inland waterway activities which also features a color aerial view of the port facilities on its front cover.

The article which attributes the founding and subsequent growth of the port district to construction of the Chain of Rocks locks and canal, is entitled "New Port Facility on Mississippi Enjoys Steady Growth Pattern."

It details facilities of the port area on the riverfront and illustrates three photographic illustrations, one of them showing construction of the $500,000 warehouse of Bulk Service Corp. which is now nearing completion just inside the main levee.

The cover photo also shows a portion of the Bi-State Development Agency wharf.

Dr. R. G. Browne Aiding SIU Board Reorganization

In its move to reorganize its structure and functions, the Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees is benefiting from the "unofficial and unpaid counsel" of one of the state's leading educators, who is also one of the institution's most distinguished alumni.

Richard G. Browne, first executive director of the State Board of Higher Education, was asked for "one more public service" by Melvin Lockard, chairman of the SIU board's reorganization committee and a personal friend of the educator.

Restructuring of the SIU board was one of the recommendations of the Chicago management consultant firm, Crasap, McCormick and Page, which Lockard's committee engaged to make a study of the university's governance.

"Professor Browne's services have been and are invaluable to the committee," Lockard said. "His advice and encouragement stem from an intimate and broadly-based experience in Illinois education for nearly 30 years."

Browne taught for 23 years at Illinois State University at Normal, the last six as chairman of the social science department. He spent a decade as executive officer of the Illinois State Teachers College Board, took a turn as acting president of Western Illinois U., served as a member and then as chief executive officer of the Illinois Commission on Higher Education, and was drafted as the executive director of the new "super-board" in 1962, serving until 1965.

Along the line, he has served as a member of the Illinois Commission on Intergovernmental Cooperation, as research director of the Illinois Legislative Council and of the Illinois School Problems Commission, and as consultant on the School Survey. He has co-authored a number of books on education.

A two-year graduate of SIU (then Southern Illinois Normal University), Browne completed bachelor's and master's degrees at the University of Illinois and the Ph.D. at Northwestern University. He taught in public schools at Marion and Chicago Heights before entering college teaching.

He holds honorary degrees from Rockford College, Lincoln College and SIU. A native of Springfield, Browne grew up in Carbondale, where his father, George M. Browne, was professor and chemistry department chairman at SIU, 1903-32.

MONSTERA DELICIOSA. George Crawford, 620 East Chain of Rocks road, points to the eatable banana-like portion of a bloom he nurtured from what most North Americans consider a leafy house plant. The tropical plant commonly called a Split Leaf Philodendron is known in equatorial regions as a Swiss Cheese or Mexican Breadfruit plant. The eatable portion is said to taste like a cross between a pineapple and a banana and the plant's scientific name is almost as invitingly eatable, "Monstera Deliciosa."

5th Division Amvets Guests at Meet Here

Amvets of the Fifth Division were hosted in a meeting at the Amvet Post 51 home on Lakeview drive Sunday by Madison Post 204, with Leo Clements, Granite City, Fifth Division commander, presiding.

Out-of-town guests included Walter Dickerson of Peoria, past state commander; Norman Bess of Springfield, Third and Fourth Division Commander and Francis Swinnen, Mr. Vernon, National Service officer.

A financial report was submitted by Ben Sanders, Fifth Division financial officer. Steve Conkovich, public relations officer of both Post 51 and the Fifth Division, was presented with the National Commanders Special Achievement certificate for outstanding service to the organization and the community by Commander Clements. The award was given primarily for work done for the Venice flag tribute which took place in February.

Also honored at the meeting was Commander William Sherman of the Granite City Post for outstanding achievement to Post 51 and Madison Post 204 for a 100 percent membership renewal, accepted by Carl Angloff.

Dickerson told the group that 43 cities in Illinois have adopted the policy of lowering the American flag to half mast in tribute to a resident who died in Vietnam, since the policy first was initiated in Venice. There are 500 cities across the nation who have followed suit and 15 more in Illinois who are in the process of following the program, he said.

Swinnen said anyone who knows of a veteran in either Jefferson Barracks or John C. Cochrane Hospitals should notify him so he can be of assistance to the veteran.

The next district meeting will be held in Mt. Vernon, Ill., on Oct. 11. After the meeting Sunday a buffet luncheon was held for 50 persons following by dancing.

Tourists Can Ride Historic Lincoln Circuit Give Go Ahead

Tourists in Illinois can ride the historic circuit that Abraham Lincoln once rode and visit the state memorials that tell the story of his early years as a practicing lawyer.

Buildings in which he lived and worked still stand today, according to Theodore Kavadas, superintendent of the state Department of Conservation's division of parks and memorials.

"Life, Liberty and Law were the watchwords of the early Illinois pioneers," Kavadas said. "Back in the old days, young men like Lincoln were forced to educate themselves or serve as apprentices to professional people. Lincoln spent much time studying to prepare himself for the career which was to make him President of the United States and one of our most honored Americans."

While driving in central Illinois, people are able to go back into history and see first hand the route Lincoln followed, Kavadas said.

New Salem Rebuilt
Stopping by the village of New Salem, they can see the small community, rebuilt for tourists, where he studied and where he first bid for election to the state Legislature. New Salem State Park surrounds the village which contains many authentic artifacts of the period in which Lincoln lived.

Lincoln moved to Springfield where his name is preserved in one of the historic memorials, the only home Lincoln ever owned. While living in Springfield, he spent six months of the year as a practicing lawyer following the eighth circuit around central Illinois.

"This circuit at one time covered 11,000 square miles, an area slightly larger than the state of Maryland," Kavadas said. "The traveler today can follow his circuit in Mount Pulaski, Lincoln and Metamora where there are still court houses in the center of town furnished with authentic pieces to illustrate court proceedings."

To Reconstruct Old Fort Massac

A "go ahead" signal to start reconstruction on the old Fort Massac at Metropolis has been given by the archaeologist in charge of pre-restoration archaeological work.

Frank Rackerby, curator of Midwest archaeology during the past six weeks provided more than him that no significant archaeological materials remain in the fort area.

"We had hoped to find remains of structures that surrounded the fort, to substantiate historical drawings," Rackerby said, "but apparently landscaping road building and utility lines that have been laid in the Fort Massac State Park have disturbed the terrain."

"I see no reason why reconstruction cannot start at any time."

Rackerby and a crew of student archaeologists have been working in the vicinity of the old fort and have found 50 to 60 promissory archaeological sites adjacent to the park.

Citizens Helpful
"Local citizens have been most helpful in directing us to potential Mississippian and late Archaic sites," he said. "We have been aided by more than a dozen local people who have collected specimens as a hobby and who appreciate the need for care in exploring these sites."

Rackerby said there are a large number of Indian mounds in the vicinity and 15 to 20 sites of the late Archaic seasonal camps.

The SIU Museum was designated by the State Department of Conservation to conduct Phase I of the projected $800,000 restoration program, which has involved feasibility studies, evaluation of historical materials on the local scene and design of the various forts that existed on the site, as well as such archaeological salvage as was needed.

A French fort built in 1857 occupied the site on the north bank of the Ohio River but was abandoned about 1785. A larger American fort was constructed on the same spot in 1798 and was rebuilt about 1812 or 1813.

Scott and Gorton stated that the nation's Attorneys General, spurred by an urgent need for action against the pollution of the environment, have held numerous conferences, including meetings at the national convention of the National Association of Attorneys General, hosted recently by Attorney General Scott at Pheasant Run, St. Charles, Ill., to determine a course of action.

The fifteen states, representing more than 25% of the nation's population, have joined in the motion and complaint are:

Illinois, Washington State, Arizona, Colorado, Kansas, Maine, Massachusetts, Missouri, Minnesota, Rhode Island, Hawaii, Iowa, Ohio, Vermont and Virginia. General Motors, American Motors, Ford Motors, Chrysler Motors and the Automobile Manufacturers Association are named defendants.

Scott and Gorton predict that if the Supreme Court accepts original jurisdiction of the case a majority of the states of the nation will join in the unprecedented mass action against what they claim is a major cause of air pollution in the United States.

The complaint filed in the Supreme Court, along with the motion and brief, is based on anti-pollution and antitrust violations by the defendants and invokes the right of each state to seek abatement of air pollution as a public nuisance.

The complaint alleges that the defendants conspired together since 1953 to hold up, interfere with and prevent research, development and manufacture of motor vehicle anti-pollution devices and asks the Court to issue a mandatory injunction to compel the defendants to install, at their own expense, effective anti-pollution control devices on all new motor vehicles manufactured by them and to install, at their own expense, effective anti-pollution control devices on all motor vehicles in operation in the United States manufactured by the defendants since 1953.

Assistant Attorney General Robert S. Adams, Chief of the Illinois Antitrust Division, represents the State of Illinois in the proceedings and Special Assistant Attorney General Fredric Tausend, represents the State of Washington.

Illinois in Anti-Pollution Suit Against Car Builders

Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott announced this week that 15 states have joined in a motion, filed today in the United States Supreme Court, by Scott and Washington State Attorney General Slade Gorton, asking leave to file suit directly in the Supreme Court against the major auto, truck and bus manufacturers to force them to install effective anti-pollution devices on motor vehicles manufactured by them.

Scott and Gorton filed a Brief in support of their Motion charging that air pollution to which motor vehicles are major contributors has reached an emergency level, that the effect is nationwide and that there is urgent and immediate need for a speedy determination of the case and the issuance of an injunction covering the entire nation, which is possible only in the Supreme Court.

The brief further contends that while filing directly in the Supreme Court is unusual, that it is the only viable forum in which the case can be tried in the interest of convenience and justice, and that there is clear precedent for this procedure.

Scott and Gorton stated that the nation's Attorneys General, spurred by an urgent need for action against the pollution of the environment, have held numerous conferences, including meetings at the national convention of the National Association of Attorneys General, hosted recently by Attorney General Scott at Pheasant Run, St. Charles, Ill., to determine a course of action.

Title I Grant Of $161,840 Seen For GC Schools

A Title I application for a federal grant totaling $161,840 has been submitted to the state by the Granite City school district, according to a report at a meeting of the board of education Monday night.

The application will provide for a continuation of services presently offered under Title I which provides special programs for economically disadvantaged children. The services include remedial reading, pre-school training, nurses and counselors.

There are 952 eligible pupils, according to the office of the Madison county superintendent of schools, and a grant of $179 per child has been indicated to cover all program costs, which includes a limited summer program.

The application requests designation of four centers for operation of four centers for the Webster and McKinley schools, Rent Classrooms.

The board authorized the administration to rent two classrooms at St. John United Church of Christ at a rate of $75 per month to offset overcrowding of Webster school. Some bussing of children will be required, it was explained.

YMCA facilities no longer will be rented.

Additional quarters near Maryville school, expected to be overcrowded, also are being sought.

The board authorized repair of a tractor for $290, purchase of heating equipment traps for $408, clock system overhaul at Coolidge junior high school at about $135, installation of carpeting in a second handicapped classroom, at Lake school for $400 and emergency ceiling repairs at Central junior high school for about $200.

A request by the Rotary Club to use the high school's coming events sign to advertise its home show was approved.

INTERIOR WORK progresses in the new refrigerated warehouse for meat products under construction at Maeras Industrial Park in Madison for the Brendel Distribution Co. of East St. Louis. Workman Larry Brook of Troy measures for placement of inside trim. The building is expected to be completed soon.

proved with the reservation that the space is not needed for school affairs.

With construction of new additions at Coolidge junior high and Lake schools, the board approved a plan to add another custodian to the staff.

The board agreed to continue a bi-county agreement for pre-school oral deaf and hard of hearing children for whom classes are held in Roxana and East St. Louis. Two are scheduled for Roxana and one for East St. Louis' hard of hearing center.

ONE OF THE EARLIER businesses to locate in the industrial park at Madison was Zimring Co., formerly located in Granite City. Its new building

DIAMOND PLATING CO. building is another new addition at Madison's industrial park. Construction work is virtually complete and city council members were informed last week that the new facility, built for Diamond Plating Co. of Granite City, is expected to be placed in use about Sept. 1.

Expansion Continues at Industrial Park

Recent decision of the Madison city council to sell a tract of land in the Stephen Maeras Industrial Park to Swift & Co.

New Meat Warehouse

Also nearing completion in the industrial area is a new refrigerated meat warehouse for Brendel Distribution Co. of East St. Louis. Interior work at this plant is being completed but no date has yet been set for beginning operations.

This building provides 12,000 square feet of floor space and is built so that it may be expanded later to a projected 50,000 square feet. The warehouse and offices will serve as a storage and distribution center for meat products, employing about 15 truck drivers and five warehousemen. Cost of the building was set at $150,000.

The Diamond Plating Co. facility was the fourth to be built in the Maeras Park.

$1 Million Steel Plant

The first was Caine Steel Co., largest facility now located in the park. It was built under a lease agreement at a cost of $1 million.

The Zimring Co. building and the Wilbur Waggoner Equipment and Rental Co. were the second and third firms to locate in the park.

The Swift & Co. plant along Farish street will be the sixth business or industrial operation to locate in the Maeras Industrial Park. The Madison city council recently approved sale of a tract of land to the company at a bid price of $18,500.

Because it no longer has funds available to build the facilities under a lease agreement, Swift & Co. will build its own plant.

Gifts in Kind Total $122,000 at SIU-SW

Gifts in-kind received by Southwestern Campus since April amount to more than $122,000, according to Charles Schweizer, assistant director of the SIU Foundation.

Gifts-in-kind, Schweizer explained, are those which involve property and not actual cash. They range from books, paintings, musical scores and periodicals, many of them out of print, to scientific and radio-television equipment. Gifts in the last five months have come from as far away in this country as Utah and from across the Atlantic from Germany.

The gift from Utah included gold and ore samples and the gift from Germany was archival material of more than 500 contemporary European composers.

"There really isn't any limit to the kinds of things that can be done for the University," Schweizer pointed out.

Many gifts in-kind come through the SIU Friends of the Library, the SIU Friends of Music and the Slave and East European Friends, who recently held a picnic and earned more than $500. This money will be used for scholarships and awards at the school's senior campus.

"Before you throw it away or sell it," Schweizer suggests, "think about giving it to SIU. A gift-in-kind can bring you and the receiver great satisfaction."

Your "Realtor" Is Your Specialist In the Real Estate Field

How to shop for money.

Many prospective buyers don't know much about financing — how or where to get a mortgage.

Sell your home yourself, and there's not much you can do to help him.

A Realtor knows just about all there is to know about financing. He works very closely with all kinds of financial institutions. He knows their methods and requirements.

Red tape.

Selling a house involves many details. Paperwork, title searches, finance arrangements. There are a hundred little things to be done.

Unless you have a mind like a computer, you'll need a Realtor to get everything done and keep it straight. He and your attorney will guide you through the tangle of details as painlessly and safely as possible.

Be it ever so humble.

Crowded closets may make a home looked lived in, but it doesn't do much for a prospective buyer. Neither does a dripping faucet, upturned lawn or loose doorknob.

There are dozens of little things you can do to make your house more saleable. A Realtor can show them to you. (Some of them would never have occurred to you.) Showmanship is all it's cracked up to be.

Retailers Expect More Sales, Less Profits in 1970

Merchants expect to be selling more and making less in '70.

Almost half of the retailers taking part in a survey conducted by the Illinois Retail Merchants Association expect sales volume for 1970 to be up over 68. More than half (65%) expect the rise to be between 1 and 10%.

Merchants do not see the same picture for profits. Most retailers anticipate a decline in profits during the same period, but expect fourth quarter relief from the money/profit squeeze.

The survey, consisting of 11 questions, was conducted by IRMA during the second quarter of '70. Retailers from across the state, representing a variety of merchandise lines, took part. Hugh Muncy, association president, said, "Surveys of this nature have become a regular part of the Illinois Retail Merchants Association program. They are helpful in providing a composite picture of Illinois retailing."

When giving reasons for anticipated retail price increases, merchants generally cited cost factors outside their control. Higher merchandise costs headed the list, with increased cost for labor—taxes—store supplies, close behind. Advertising costs and inventory shrinkage are also expected to be factors in a retail price increase.

Expect Strikes Effects

Strikes, local and national, are expected to have the greatest effect on store operations. A total of 78% of the retailers put strikes first when listing factors which would affect their stores' operations. Demonstrations and street violence are expected to have minimal effect on operations.

Consumer groups will be more active in '70, the merchants said. Retailers felt the activity would take the forms of boycotts

DuQuoin Fair Shows to Present Top Entertainers

The Du Quoin State Fair's 1970 night show lineup may be one of the most popular in its history if present ticket sales are any indication and opening night, Saturday, Aug. 29, is still more than three weeks off.

Two one-night stands by country and western music stars such as Sonny James, Jeannie C. Riley, Waylon Jennings, Carl Smith, Roy Clark and members of the Hee Haw show cast assure the 48th annual extravaganza of a superb start, Aug. 29 and 30.

The Labor Day night show consisting of Liberace, the Evers, Brothers and the Goldiggers is certain to wind the Fair up on a high note as all are among the nation's top attractions now. The Evers Brothers and the Goldiggers are certain to wind the Fair up on a high note as all are among the nation's top attractions now. Study of Mercury in Fish May Jolt Public to Action

A news story on the closing of the brain and causing deformities in Alabama and Tennessee, due to mercury poisoning, occasioned some comments to the Press-Record this week from William Lewis, professor of zoology at Southern Illinois University's Carbondale campus.

Fishing may be banned, according to the article, for as long as 10 to 100 years. The mercury compounds entered the huge lake in the form of industrial waste.

Lewis, who is also head of the Cooperative Fisheries Institute at SIU, said it is conceivable that materials such as DDT and mercury might persist in a lake for this length of time. He said neither of the poisons is easily degradable; whereas many compounds break down in a matter of days, these do not.

Fish "Tolerant," People Not
The problem, Lewis said, is that fish develop a tolerance for the poison and may accumulate what would be a lethal dose to any animal or bird eating the fish. This includes humans, he said.

DDT is known to cause problems in the bone structure of birds and animals, Lewis said, while mercury compounds are particularly deadly, affecting the brain and causing deformities of the unborn young.

"I think this and other recently published examples of dangerous water pollution will jolt the American public into action," Lewis said. "Only continual monitoring of public waters and more research on the effects of new chemical wastes can protect our environment."

Correction
Gary J. Kasproovich of Madison, who was married Saturday to Miss Gloria Jean Kubelka, is a teacher at the Granite City high school, instead of the Madison high school as was stated in the story of the wedding which appeared in Monday's issue of the Press-Record. The paper regrets the error.

Old Autos, Sports Cars To Be Fair Attraction

Have you ever seen a 1912 Kri? Or a 1911 Lozier? You can on Saturday, Aug. 22, at the Antique Auto and Sports Car Meet at the Illinois State Fair, Secretary of State Paul Powell said today. The meet will be in progress from 9 a.m. to about 4 p.m. on a parking lot just inside Fairgrounds Gate 11.

Remember the Briscoe, the Star, the Maxwell, the Humobile, the Auburn, the Overland, the Durant, the Whippet and the DeSoto? They will all be represented among the 188 entries in the meet, Mr. Powell, superintendent of the event, said.

So will the Cadillac, the Buicks, the Chevrolets, the Fords, the Plymouths, the Oldsmobiles, the Lincolns and many others dating from 1912 back to 1900.

Krit Cost $900
The Krit was manufactured in Detroit from 1909 to 1913, Secretary Powell said. The touring car entered in the State Fair meet cost $900 originally. The name, Krit, is a shortened and altered version of Critterden, the name of the man who designed the car.

The Lozier was one of the luxury cars of its time, this particular touring car costing $5,500 in 1911. About 2,600 of them were produced from 1904 through 1914 in Port Huron, N. Y., and beginning in 1911, in Detroit.

Loziers were rather widely used as racing cars, one of them taking second place in the first Indianapolis 500-mile race. Endurance events were common in those days, as manufacturers sought to prove that automobiles were not merely playthings, but a reliable means of transportation. Mr. Powell said. In one 24-hour continuous test, a Lozier averaged 74 miles an hour for the entire period.
